

The World's Largest Production of Tires on the Smaller Cars Alone

We call attention not so much to the size of this average daily production as to the extent of the effort we put into the making of these 30x3-, 30x3½-, and 31x4-inch sizes.

The separate factory we have devoted to their manufacture is not only the largest of its kind in the world, but it makes fully effective that experience and resourcefulness which have produced the tires most popular on the higher-priced cars.

No tires bearing the Goodyear name contain a higher relative value than these tires for Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell and other cars requiring the sizes mentioned.

If you own one of these cars, go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for these tires and for Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He has them.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure
Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure
Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30 x 3½ size in water—$4.50 proof bag

MANAGING THE HOTBED

By
T. H. Abell, Assistant Horticulturist,
U. A. C.

Properly managing a hotbed is an exacting bit of work. The hotbed cannot be left for a day at a time to look after itself, especially in early spring. It requires frequent if not constant care.

The question is often asked, "At what temperature shall I keep my hotbed?" For hardy cool season crops like cabbage, cauliflower and celery, it should run from 45 degrees at night to 65 degrees Fahrenheit at midday. For the tender war season crops it should run from 60 degrees at night to 85 degrees Fahrenheit in the day. This does not mean that these two kinds of crops cannot be raised at the same temperature, but best results are obtained at the temperature suggested.

If many plants are to be raised, heat one hotbed with a mixture of cow and horse manure and delay planting until the temperature is down to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. This bed will do for the cool season crops, and it may receive more ventilation. Heat another bed with pure horse manure and more suitable for warm season tender crops. When only one small bed is to be made, divide it with a partition and ventilate the two sides differently to secure the difference in temperature.

Plants in hotbeds require lots of air at all times; even at night the covers should be left open slightly. On severe nights they may be covered tightly and enough air will leak in to provide good ventilation. Never allow cold drafts to strike the plants. Lift the sash or covers on the opposite side from which the wind blows.

Watering the plants in little dabs frequently is a bad practice because it wets only the top soil and the plants become very shallow rooted, and when the soil dries a bit the plants wilt. It is much more satisfactory to give the bed a thorough drenching on sunny mornings. The water penetrates deeply into the soil, making the plants deeply rooted, and the plants and top soil have a chance to dry before night. An evening watering leaves the bed in a moist warm condition which favors the growth of fungous diseases.

Plants in the hotbed require shade only when they are first transplanted and on hot dry afternoons when they are young. After the plants become older they should be toughened to hot dry weather.

Be sure that there is ample protection provided for cold snowy weather that so often comes suddenly in the spring. Boards, straw, straw mats, old quilts or blankets, and canvas are all useful for protecting a hotbed in cold weather.

IN THE HOLE

If you're in the hole at present, when the times are brisk and pleasant, and the stream of scads is flowing everywhere, its lustre showing, what will be your situation if a panic hits the nation? If a bigger bill you're running, if you keep the merchants dunning, now that every form of cash is growing thickly on the bushes, where, O neighbor, shall we find you when the hard times come and grind you? Every gent is earning wages never known in bygone ages; situations are aplenty, for each man are eight or twenty; and there's such a wealth of plunder that we tread the bladed stuff under. Every delegate who's willing has his chance to make a killing, has a chance to store the guilders, like the other fortune builders. If you cannot do some saving, now that all the world is raving in its lust for reckless spending, where, O neighbor, are you wandering? To the poorhouse in the valley, where the down-and-outers rally? To the dump where jays are carted when they're strapped and broken hearted?

"Are you going to invite the doctor to your party, Ethel?"
"No, mamma."
"Why not?"
"Because I don't want him here too often. We'll probably have to have him here the next day, anyway," Yonkers Statesman.

"Ha! Ha! Due to overwork, I suppose?"

NEWS EXCHANGE IS BRINGING RESULTS

Better and Thorough Feeling of Commercial and Social Brotherhood Felt

BUENOS AIRES, March 16.—Interchange of news between North and South America through connection of the South American newspapers with the news agencies and newspapers of the United States has brought about a better and more thorough feeling of commercial and social brotherhood in every nation than would have been possible in anything less than decades under other conditions. Don Jorge Mitre, director of La Nacion, told members of the American club, of Buenos Aires, at a luncheon recently. Speaking as a publisher, Mr. Mitre said, "I consider this to be one of the great triumphs of journalism."

"After all," he asserted, "the greatest service a newspaper or a news agency can render to the country in which it is located, in particular, and to the world in general, is to spread informative items that will assist prospective investors, merchants, bankers or any other persons interested in obtaining a definite and true knowledge of conditions in a country where their future may lie."

Mr. Mitre said the ideals and duties of the newspapers in the upper and lower halves of the western hemisphere were the same. "The methods of newspaper making are different," he added, "and even these differences are becoming smaller and smaller."

SO EASY TO COMPLAIN

It's the easiest thing in the world to complain.

The grumbler can always find reason to whine;

One cloud in the sky is an omen of rain.

But why should we fret if the weather is fine?

Fault finding's the easiest thing we can do.

It's seldom that things can be rated at par;

But what the world's wanting of me and of you

Is to try to be cheerful with things as they are.

There's many a flaw in the pleasures we plan.

There's many a thorn on the stem of the rose.

Life never makes perfect the pathway of man.

There are troubles to meet him wherever he goes.

The whiner can always find reason to whine.

The worst we can see when the best seems afar.

There are bound to be days when the sun fails to shine.

So try to be cheerful with things as they are.

It is easy to grumble and find fault and frown.

It is easy to criticize manners and men.

The cynics can tell what is wrong with their town.

And the scoffers are ready with tongue and with pen.

But here's to the man with the courage to see

The joys which exist not the failings which mar.

Who looks for the best and trying to be

Contented, and cheerful with things as they are.

THE TIES

To these few things I must be true:

The God who guards us all below.

The laughter of my children small.

The friends who daily come and go.

The heritage my father gave.

The name I wear and am to leave.

Within this circle, all I crave

From earthly life I must receive.

And find the strength for all I do.

These few restrictions shut me in:

I must not falsely deal for gain.

Nor rob my children of their play.

Faithful to them I must remain.

And teach them well, let come what may.

And though I toil for wealth and fame

And strive for goals that lie afar,

Whatever joys are mine to claim.

I'm bound to know that first they are

Unmarred by selfishness or sin.

To these few dreams I must be true:

The laughter of my children small.

Their welfare and their future years.

I must remember, first of all,

Never to cause them needless tears.

Never to shame the name they wear

Or bring to them one hour of woe;

I hold their trust, nor do I dare

Beyond its boundaries to go.

And more than this I dare not do.

Free Yourself From The Pangs of Rheumatism

The Right Treatment Will Break Your Shackles.

You who are afflicted with Rheumatism know from experience just how excruciating the pangs of the disease are. You know also, if you have had rheumatism for any length of time that there is no real relief to be expected from the use of liniments and lotions.

Rheumatism is a stubborn disease, and its pangs and pains cannot be wiped out as if by magic. A disease that is so full of torture and renders so many people absolutely helpless, is a deep-seated one; it is not on the surface, hence it cannot be reached by external, surface remedies.

Lotions, liniments and ointments applied to the surface may in some cases deaden the pain for the time being, but until you attack the disease at its foundation, you are making no progress toward a cure. Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by millions of tiny germs that infest the blood, and until the blood is absolutely freed of these germs, there is no real relief in sight.

In fact the longer you delay treating the disease through the blood, the further you are getting from ridding yourself from the disease. And because so many people treat the pain, and not the disease itself, is one reason why Rheumatism increases in severity year by year.

The most satisfactory remedy for Rheumatism is S. S. S., because it is one of the most thorough blood purifiers known to medical science. This fine old remedy cleanses the blood of all impurities, and is a sure antidote to the germs of Rheumatism. Being purely vegetable, without a particle of mineral or chemical in its composition, it works by eliminating and forcing out of the blood all impurities, acting as a tonic to the entire system at the same time. It has been used for more than fifty years, and scores of sufferers from Rheumatism give it unstinted praise.

S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere, and any of them will tell you that it is a thoroughly honest and reliable old remedy.

You are invited to write our medical department for full information and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address Chief Medical Adviser 12 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try these SIMPLE TESTS

New York: Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or sniff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco. And thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, which slowly affects the nervous system, the blood and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchitis, trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer or the common use of tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests. Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading, your voice becomes muffled, that your throat is affected by catarrh, that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace.
